Language Literacy and Communication 	Poetry: What is Pink by Christina Rossetti. This is a simple yet beautiful poem. It highlights the positives in the things that we see. Read through the attached PowerPoint. It will guide you through the Challenges and help you to build up the knowledge that you will need to complete the task. The Challenges have three levels of challenge. Challenge 1: Research and find examples of different types of poems. Challenge 2: Create and present a poem following the style of Christina Rossetti. There are many ways that you can present it and these options have been recorded. Challenge 3: Read and record yourself presenting your poem. Upload your recording to your Files section. Please store all of your work in the LLC folder.
Health and Wellbeing 	For this week's Health and Wellbeing Challenge click on the link below. We'd like you to do some Yoga this week as it's a great way to Improve your posture, flexibility, strength, balance, coordination and motor skills. Regular yoga practice helps promote a healthier body through poses that stretch, strengthen and build coordination too. It increases blood flow, which in turn can help reduce the risk of injury during other physical activity. It also teaches breathing techniques that increase energy and decrease anxiety providing effective coping strategies for all forms of stress. Watch and join in with the yoga session Have fun! Video yourself taking part in the yoga session and send them to us. https://youtu.be/X655B4ISakg

Mathematics and Numeracy 	Perimeter This week, we will be looking at Perimeter. The 'Lockdown Maths' PowerPoint has been sent to you, along with the Challenges document this week. As well as that a Loom video has been attached explaining what you need to do for the perimeter tasks of the PowerPoint. Please watch the video before attempting the perimeter tasks, all is explained in the video. There are also 3 more problem solving challenges in the PowerPoint for you to have a go at too.
Humanities 	Judaism There are many different types of religions in the world. It is very interesting to learn about different beliefs and traditions that other people have. We are going to begin to look at JUDAISM this week. We would like you to research Judaism using books or the internet or by speaking to family members (on the phone if you don't live with them.) Try and find as much information as possible about the Jewish faith. Remember to organise what you find out under sub-headings and tell us everything you find out. You can record your work in any way, you could do a large poster, you could do a power point, you could type it or write it the choice is yours. Just enjoy and find out as much as possible about Judaism. Remember to add pictures or drawings and make it as attractive as possible.

Article 28: You have the right to a good quality education and your education should help you use and develop your talents and abilities.
